

Video Production Job Description

[company] is seeking a video producer/editor to focus on B2B marketing and ad sales verticals, as a critical part of our growing creative studio. In this role, you will tell forward-thinking stories that deliver on the strategic objectives of our clients, while pushing the boundaries of creative storytelling. Do you bring a wealth of experience crafting a range of sizzles, demos and promos? Do you love telling complex stories in a matter of seconds? If you're part award-winning scriptwriter, part editor, and a person who brings an ambitious, efficient, and inclusive spirit to all that you do, we'd love for you to join our team!

Core Responsibilities

- Work collaboratively with creative directors, campaign strategists, producers, assistant editors and motion graphic designers to craft innovative promos for our B2B and ad sales initiatives.
- Develop, pitch, write, produce and edit videos for a variety of platforms and uses.
- Lead many complex, fast paced and simultaneous video projects from pre-production through post.

Qualifications

- 5+ years producing and editing for a brand agency or in-house creative team.
- Deep knowledge of advertising in the digital and technology space, mandatory.
- Authoritative editor in Adobe Premiere Pro.
- A detailed understanding of how to win trust and keep clients happy.
- Experience in writing, developing and pitching creative concepts.
- Proficiency in Adobe After Effects.
- Online portfolio showcasing your amazing work!
